Nic Rossmüller : June 6th 2006 - 10:06 CET

Photo album editing software from Photozig : Photozig, Inc., today announced the commercial release of the Photozig Albums v1.0 product line, the easy and fast solution to organize and share digital photos and short movies with efficient web connectivity. Photozig Albums software transfers photos and movie clips from digital cameras, organizes them in the computer, generates personalized screensavers and emails photos to friends. "You can easily find that special picture with quick search, tag photos, categorize albums, view digital photos in different ways, exchange full resolution images through the internet, drag/drop images from web browser to your computer, and much more," said Bruno Kajiyama, CEO of Photozig.

"Imagine creating rich screensavers with your own pictures, which can be easily configured, providing much more personalized images on your desktop than free animated screensavers, or standard slide show programs." The Photozig Albums family consists of three products: "Express" (basic digital photo organizer); "DeLuxe" (enhanced image views, sorting, and filtering); and "Premium" (extra video support).

Photozig photo editing software can assist you to create screen savers, which can contain your own photographs, more personalized than free screensaver downloads and screensavers online.

Photozig Albums Express product is offered free of charge for a limited time, including built-in free photo editing software, free slideshow software, and photo organizer software. Photozig Albums DeLuxe and Premium products will be sold through RegNow, a Digital River, Inc. company. Photozig Albums is based in part upon a research project, funded by the National Institute of Disability Rehabilitation Research, particularly R&D findings related to enhancing usability and interface methods to facilitate assimilation for a broad range of users, and enabling easy organization of personal digital memories in a desktop computer.

About Photozig

Photozig mission is to provide "the best customer experience to save, organize, and share lifetime memories". Photozig develops easy-to-use tools, practical solutions, and time-saving features to facilitate the management, enhancement, and sharing of digital pictures and video.
